USD'S COMMUNITY RELATIONS COORDINATOR ATTENDS GOVERNOR'S WORKSHOP

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

San Diego, California

Coordinator of Community Relations at USD, Mr. Willie Moore plans to attend Governor Reagan's "Minority Satellite Workshop" on October 12 and 13 in Los Angeles.

Evolving around "Affirmative Action and the Changing World of Work", the workshop will be devoted to an overview of Administration accomplishments and goals, and panels discussing key problems in minority relations.

Mr. Moore will be concerned with the panel on education, exploring career and vocational education, intergroup human relations, and financial assistance for minority students.

The Community Relations Program at the University of San Diego, created in 1973, is primarily concerned with recruitment and financial support of minority students seeking education at USD. The program assists them in finding future job and career opportunities.

Mr. Moore's specific goals for the 1973-74 academic year include the creation of an emergency fund for the benefit of Black students and increasing funds for scholarships. Moore said, "I'd like to see USD extend itself to more of the San Diego minority community. We will seek to have more faculty and administrators speak in minority areas, and develop areas where academic programs, field trips, and classes can be held in the minority community itself."

Prior to assuming his present post, Moore served as trainer in the USD athletic department and was Director of the Educational Opportunity Program. He has been recognized for numerous projects concerning disadvantaged youths in fields of employment, education, health and recreation.
